

Draw me, my Beloved, in Your Footsteps

3 August 2001, the Lord gives the prayer:

"draw me, my Beloved, in Your Footsteps that exhale a sweet scent of myrrh; lead me by the hand into Your Chamber,¹ my King, where in privacy I will hear Your royal Voice;
brighten my face, O Lover of mankind, with Your smile;
let Your gaze of tender love,
an all-excelling glance, transcending every sense,
be upon me;
if I have ever failed You or even for a mere instance made You raise an eyebrow because of my frailty,
I implore Your most Sacred Heart to show me compassion;
You have the power over life and death and I now come to You to find my shelter in Your Sacred Heart
where one finds Life and everlasting rest;"
